FUTURE LEADERS IN PLANNING

YOUTH PROGRAM

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT FOR THE 2012-2013 SCHOOL YEAR

Are you concerned about having better parks? How about the streets in your community? Have you ever wondered why the mall is where it is? Why your school is located where it is? Do you wish someone would do something to make life better for you, your family, or your community? The Chicago Metropolitan Agency for Planning (CMAP) is looking for high school students who want to learn about our region while interacting with other students from various counties. CMAP is interested in your ideas about how to make Northeastern Illinois a better place to live, go to school, work, and play. Please apply to be part of Future Leaders in Planning.

Future Leaders in Planning (FLIP) is a leadership development opportunity offered free-of-charge to students who can contribute ideas to help create a better future for our region. The program began in September 2008. Participants in the 2012-2013 program will learn more about the northeastern Illinois region and share their thoughts with other teens from Cook, DuPage, Kane, Kendall, Lake, McHenry, and Will counties. Participants will also meet and interact with regional leaders who make key planning decisions in our communities.

The Future Leaders in Planning (FLIP) Curriculum

FLIP students will learn about past, present, and future regional issues from elected officials, community leaders, and CMAP staff. Through multimedia tools, interactive activities, and field trips, students will go “behind the scenes” to explore our region’s communities. Not only will you learn how the region works, but you’ll contribute your own ideas about how residents’ lives can be improved through better planning.

Students will meet and work with planners and architects to understand and apply fundamental principles of coordinated planning and government. Through exercises and excursions, participants will explore the benefits and challenges of planning issues including transportation, air quality, human services, land use, and water supply. In addition to learning how local governments interact to address these important regional needs, students will have opportunities to engage with other students to think about the ways planning could be improved.

Have you ever thought about what happens at the airport beyond the check-in counter? Have you considered how 911 call centers work? Do you know what a “green roof” is? These are the types of questions and activities FLIP participants will explore. Participants will investigate regional issues by:

- Forming committees with other participants.
- Taking their ideas to elected officials who work to make change.
- Debating and voting on the recommendations they have crafted to create a more prosperous northeastern Illinois region.

Each year, FLIP students are empowered to develop a final project to showcase the planning and leadership skills they have learned over the course of the program. This year, students will work on a project that will empower them to improve the liveability of communities in the region. Students will present their plan to the CMAP Board. This board is comprised of 15 voting members appointed by the mayors of Chicago and suburban Cook County, and by chairmen of the collar counties.

FLIP is an ideal opportunity for students to learn and participate in a project that will empower them with planning information and knowledge about their community. Not only will this program contribute to a college resumé, it will also count towards community service credit hours. As a leadership development program, all successful participants will receive a certificate of participation and appreciation from CMAP officials, as well as an optional letter of recommendation. For more information, please visit www.cmap.illinois.gov/flip.aspx.

Essay

Creating a great place to live is a constant work in progress. In an effort to involve the youth of the region in planning for its future, CMAP — the official planning agency for the 7-county region — has created a dynamic youth leadership development program called the Future Leaders in Planning. FLIP has been designed to bring high school students from the 7 counties to address key issues affecting the northeastern Illinois region.

Write an essay explaining:

- What regional or community issue (or issues) interest you the most and why.
- What strengths and experiences you can contribute to helping solve regional challenges.
- How you envision our region in the year 2040.

Essay should be typed, double-spaced, and no more than three pages long. (Be sure to write your name on all pages of the essay).

FLIP in the News

“I am learning so much,” the 16-year-old said. “It’s amazing how much we think we have modernized, but there is always still room for improvement.”

—Paula Yoder (FLIP 2009) “FLIPing out about the future,”
Lake County Journal, January 27, 2009

“It’s been absolutely fascinating for me...I love the chance to be so involved and informed. Even if I don’t go into (planning or government), I know what’s going on and I can use the information when I make decisions.”

—Laura Berman (FLIP 2009) “Father, daughter share transportation concerns,” Buffalo Grove Countryside,

FLIP contributes to $75,504 Safe Routes to School funding

2010-2011 FLIP participants contributed to a Safe Routes to School project that will pave a sidewalk in the Fairmont community of Will County. FLIP students helped promote the project by building models, making maps and working with local youth and leaders to explore the importance of making sure that students can safely walk to school. Those efforts, in turn, helped pave the way for CMAP staff and local leaders to begin developing Fairmont’s first-ever neighborhood plan.

Program Benefits

- Build your college resume and gain invaluable experience through exercises and excursions.
- Receive an optional letter of recommendation.
- Receive community service credit hours.
- Learn about new professions and possible career paths in Urban Planning, Public Policy, Government, Transportation, Environmental planning, Water supply, Community Development, Public Engagement

About CMAP

CMAP was created to integrate planning for land use and transportation in the counties of Cook, DuPage, Kane, Kendall, Lake, McHenry, and Will. CMAP and its partners are removing barriers to cooperation across geographical boundaries and subject areas such as land use, transportation, natural resources, housing, and economic development. By understanding how these issues and our communities' futures are inter-related, CMAP seeks to change the way planning is conducted in north-eastern Illinois.

Formed in 2005, CMAP integrates planning for land use and transportation in the seven counties of northeastern Illinois region. The new organization combined the region's two previously separate transportation and land-use planning organizations — Chicago Area Transportation Study (CATS) and the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) — into a single agency. CMAP's goal is to coordinate the efforts of the multitude of local governmental agencies and supply them with the best technical assistance and analysis to improve land use and transportation decision-making for the region.

The CMAP Board's membership reflects the regional consensus that led to creation of CMAP, featuring balanced representation from across the counties of Cook, DuPage, Kane, Kendall, Lake, McHenry, and Will. CMAP developed and now leads the implementation of GO TO 2040, metropolitan Chicago's first comprehensive regional plan in more than 100 years. To address anticipated population growth of more than 2 million new residents, GO TO 2040 establishes coordinated strategies that help the region's 284 communities address transportation, housing, economic development, open space, the environment, and other quality-of-life issues. See www.cmap.illinois.gov for more information.

CMAP has various committees at the policy, advisory, and coordinating levels that play integral roles in these planning processes. In addition, working committees contribute to regional planning initiatives — such as Economic & Community Development, Environment & Natural Resources, Housing, Human Services, Land Use, and Transportation. Lastly, CMAP also works with task groups, such as the Bicycle and Pedestrian Task Force, the Congestion Mitigation and Air Quality Task Force, and the Regional Water Supply Planning Group, to solicit guidance from members.
